

NWMP Follow Up Activity

Make a comic that shows (choose 1):

- The reasons for the NWMP
- The Challenges of the MArch West (What were Colonel French's fatal mistakes?)
- The story of Constable Fred Bagely (or choose another NWMP figure to learn about).

	Visual Representation	Use of Images	Spelling and Punctuation	Information presented
Exemplary	The comic is presented in a neat and highly creative way. It is visually appealing.	All images on the comic are used in a creative way. They are representative of the time and period we learned about. They highly relate to the discussion of the NWMP.	The comic has no spelling or punctuation mistakes. It is easy to read and understand.	The information presented in the comic is 100% accurate in the representation of the NWMP.
Proficient	The comic is presented in a neat and somewhat creative way.	Most images on the comic are reflective of the time frame we are discussing in class. They mostly relate to the discussion of the NWMP.	The comic has some spelling and punctuation mistake. It could have used a read over and some editing.	The information presented on the comic is accurate but lacking some detail.
Acquiring	The comic is incomplete and is lacking pride in ownership.	The comic has many images that do not relate to the discussion of the NWMP.	The comic has many spelling and punctuation mistakes. It makes it hard to follow along. Editing would have been beneficial.	The information on the comic does not accurately represent the NWMP. Specific detail that was discussed in class is missing.
